WIREFRAMES:

The wireframe illustrates a login interface and a user profile card. The login form is centered and includes a title 'Login', input fields for 'Username/email' and 'password', a 'Login' button, and a 'Register here' link. Below the login form is a horizontal bar with a 'Title' label, a 'Logout' button, and a pagination control. The user profile card below features a placeholder image, a 'Title' label, a text area for a body text, a 'Button', and thumbs up/down icons.

ACCEPTANCE CRITERIA:

- When a user is not logged in, and wants to navigate to the web site, a login form is shown on the home page.
- On the login form, users can enter their email and password.
- If a person logs in correctly, the user is redirected to the home page that now shows the text "Welcome <FirstName>!" and a button "Log Out" (no login form).
- If login failed, an error message is shown on the login form "No valid email/password".
